

The Chilliwack EdCafé

Date: February 17, 2012

Time: 9:00 – 3:00

Place: Chilliwack Secondary School

Audience: All Chilliwack community members

This is a Pro-D opportunity that is a spin-off of Edcamp. The Chilliwack EdCafé will be focused on the best part of conferences, which is the conversations between the attendees, and turn these into the focus of the conference.

There will still be sessions, but the process for setting up who presents will be more democratic and the sessions will not only be more interactive, but they will be decided by the attendees that morning. We would like everyone to be expected to share what they know. We would like to run a conference for everyone interested in education.

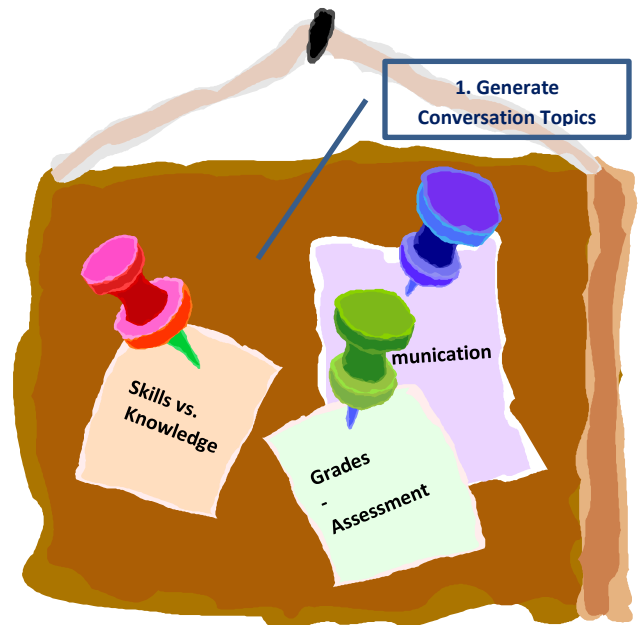

This Pro-D is open to students, parents, teachers, administrators, professors, graduate students, media, and anyone who feels they have something to share about education in today's world. The theme for this Pro-D is Creating Connections so this is not a technology conference, or a teacher conference, it is a conference about creating connections in education.
